Hi Gary,

This is my home email address. I had contacted you about the sampling of mud in the canals of our adjacent homesites. I am still working on an address list for the residents. I have updated most of them on your plans to take sample. There is some bulkhead work taking place now and sediments being disturbed. I was wondering what the timing would be on the sample analysis.

A second issue is if we should have a sign at the site or on the road, close to the site. Realtors do not tell buyers that there is a site so close.

Do you usually have a sign?

You can contact me at this address or the office. gary.guerrieri@cwland.com
